ABOUT ICx

ICx Technologies sells products designed to thwart terrorists, sniff out improvised weapons and intercept agents of mass destruction. Our sensors detect chemical, biological, radiological, nuclear and explosive (CBRNE) materials. We manufacture security radars, infrared cameras and other products that detect, illuminate or neutralize incoming threats. And we sell systems and software that link, supervise and control security products supplied by ICx and other vendors and partners. We provide solutions where traditional technologies are too expensive, cumbersome or unreliable to do the job.
